

Release Form

(This form is written so that it can be easily understood, and so that legalese does NOT obscure its meaning.)

Overview: This release form grants the filmmaker/photographer/journalist (we will call this party the “Producer”) the right to use your image, voice, name and associated media. It also specifies the responsibility of the Producer to retain the integrity of your image and voice.

What You Grant by Signing this Form:

For good and valuable consideration, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, I grant to the Producer (inclusive of his/her associates) the irrevocable right to use my image, voice, name, and associated media (for example, sounds, singing, transcripts, etc.) for the purposes of research, education/training, marketing, entertainment, and/or business use. These media elements may be utilized on websites, in videos/films, and in other audio-visual mediums in areas worldwide for as long as time exists. I assign all rights regarding the media elements to the Producer, who will own the media elements.

What the Producer Promises in Return:

The Producer promises to use your image, voice, name, and associated media in a manner that retains the integrity of those media elements; neither misrepresenting your words or actions nor changing their meaning by taking them out of context. This clause should not be construed to mean that you will look or sound like a movie star or that you will always be presented as you would hope to be presented.

By signing below you agree: (1) that you understand the meaning of the paragraphs above, and (2) you voluntarily agree to this agreement. If you are signing for another person (for example because they are underage), you also agree that you have the legal right to agree for them.
